29-Jan-2005 - PBase.com moves to a new ISP.

The disruption last night and today was the result of us moving all the servers from the old facility and merging the old equipment with new machines. For the most part, we're done, but we'll be fine tuning the system to make the most of the increased capacity.

The logo for PBase.com, featuring a stylized 'P' icon followed by the text 'PBASE.com'.

PBase is a worldwide web site with programs that allows paid members to host and share their photos in their own gallery.

The logo for PBASE.com, featuring a stylized 'P' icon composed of two overlapping blue and purple shapes, followed by the text 'PBASE.com' in a bold, black, sans-serif font.

All galleries are viewable by anyone, unless otherwise specified. Guests can make comments on any and all galleries. It is a great way to get feedback on your photographs.

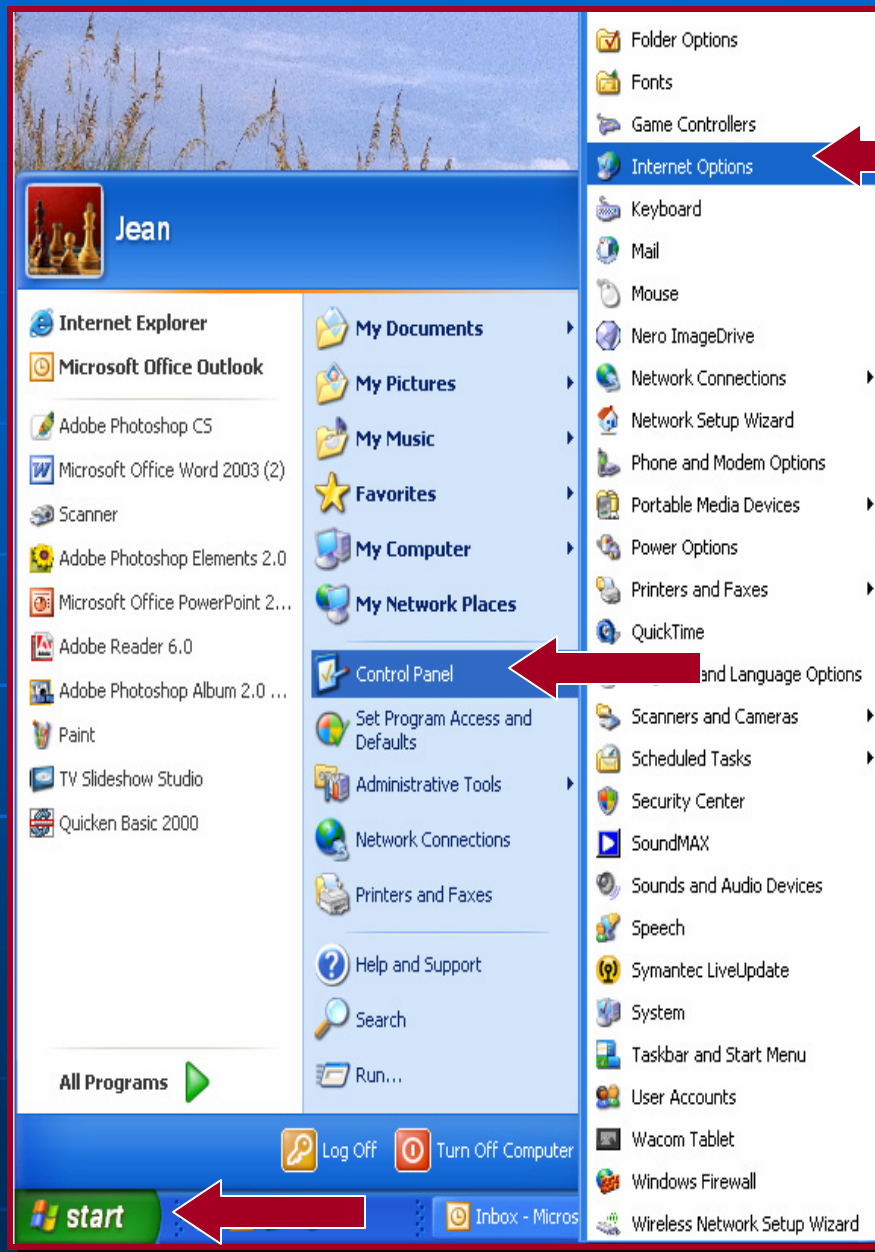

How to begin.....

- First, select, edit or enhance your pictures
- If film, scan and create a digital file
- When finished, select pictures you plan to upload and place them in a folder
- Your file must be 6 inches on the long dimension, an 8 bit .jpg, and 72 dpi

6 inches

- Second, you should make sure you have the "cookies" enabled in your web browser software

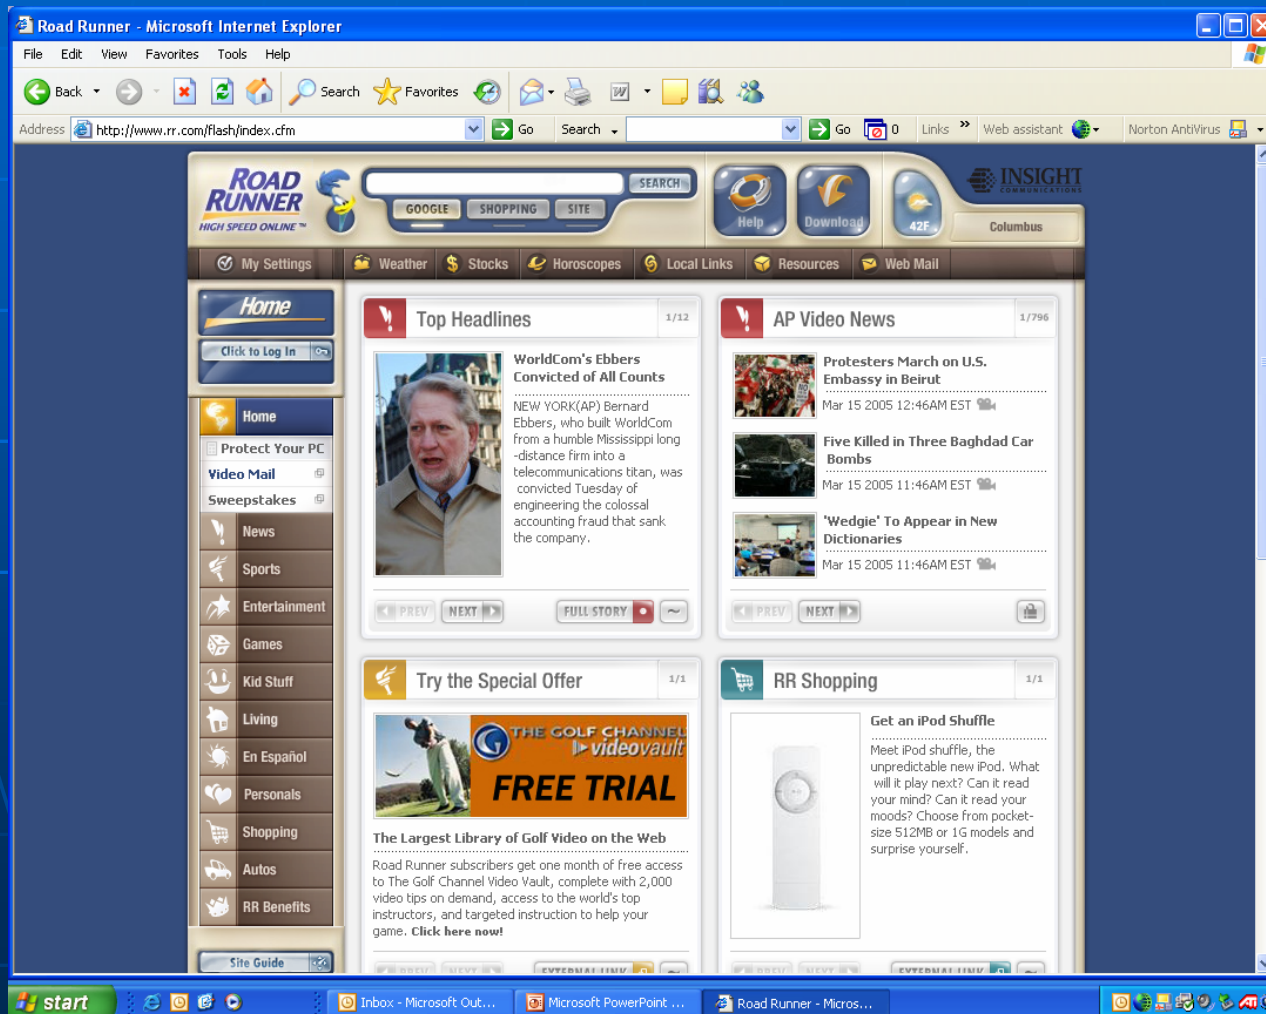

- Go to Start...
- Control Panel...
- Internet Options

- You will arrive at Internet Properties
- Notice there are several tabs across the top of the menu
- Select Privacy
- Slide the selection bar all the way to the bottom
- Then OK

Now, you are ready to begin.....

Dial in or go to your Internet Browser

- In the Address box, type:
<http://www.pbase.com/westbridge>
- Hit "Enter" or "Go"

- At the top right, click on login

The screenshot shows the PBase website interface. At the top, there are navigation links: PBase, galleries, forum, search, and help. The main section is titled "Login with your username or email". It contains two input fields: "login....." with the text "westbridge" and "enter your email address or username", and "password....." with masked characters and "enter your password, case sensitive". A "login" button is positioned below the password field. Two red arrows point to the "login" field and the "login" button respectively. Below the login section, there is a "Forgot password?" section with a "send password" button. At the bottom, there is a "Sign Up" section with an "email....." field and the text "this is not shared with anyone".

Upload Photos to your In Box

Click the Browse... or Choose File button and select at least one file from your hard drive.
(jpg,gif,zip,tar)

Then click Upload Image to start uploading this image or zip file.

You can upload a single image or batch upload many images in one step.

First make a .zip or .tar archive file and upload that.

If batch uploading, please wait for the server to process the images.

It may take several minutes for the page to load.

Create a New Gallery

Name your new gallery.

The gallery name is a simple identifier for the gallery which will be part of the URL. Only lowercase letters, numbers, and underscores are allowed.

Create the gallery at root level.

After creating a gallery, you can describe it with a Title and a Description.

While editing the gallery, any images you upload will appear in that gallery.

By default, new galleries will be created at the root level, but if you uncheck the check box, the new gallery will be created inside this gallery.

Either way, galleries can be moved around later.

Congratulations!
Your pictures are on the web!

A word from our "Computer Gurus"...

After you have logged in for the first time, your PC will remember that information, and subsequent visits will automatically log you in. This is done automatically by a "cookie" put on your PC by PBase. Without it you cannot add pictures.

This tip is from Jean.....

If you “logout” after your visit...Or,
you don't “logout” after your visit,
...two things can happen.....

Neither are bad.....

Jean's Tip: If you did not logout, when you arrive, you will notice logout in the top right-hand corner. Your "cookie" has reminded PBase, you are a registered user.

If you have an established gallery and wish to make changes.....

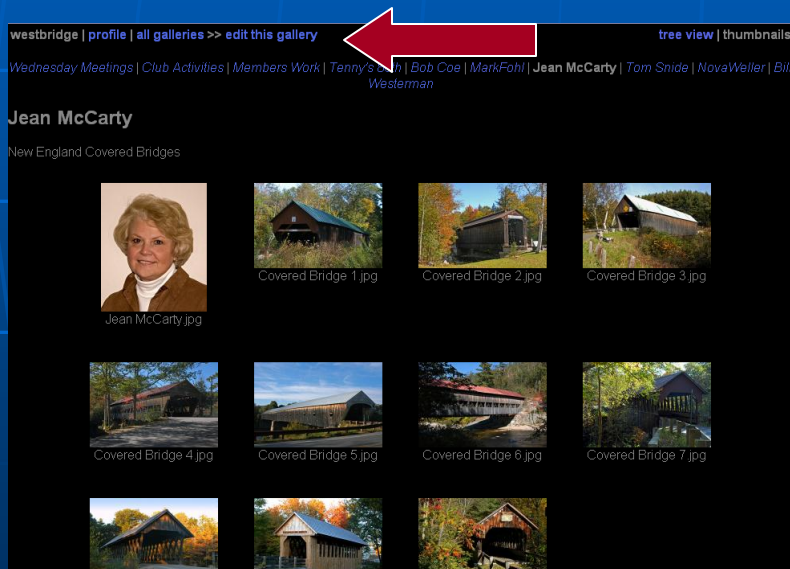

- As before go to PBase (<http://www.pbase.com/westbridge>)
- Remember Jean's "Login" tip

- Select YOUR Personal gallery

- You will then arrive in your gallery

- Look up at the top of the page and select "edit this gallery"
