

Think public health has never touched your life? Think again. Your health department's efforts protect thousands of children from life-threatening disease through vaccinations. Expect the restaurant you eat in to be clean and safe? That's public health. Surveillance allows us to catch an outbreak of disease early and prevent an epidemic. Like daily bulletins between the Health Department and the schools alert us to unusual illness patterns. We're here to support you. Vote yes for the health department levy so we can continue to help you be healthy. Paid for by Friends of Public Health, Dave Hillis, Treasurer.
