WHAT HAPPENS AFTER THE COMPLAINT IS FILED

You will receive a written acknowledgement from the Chairperson, stating whether or not the complaint has been accepted. In the event a complaint is not accepted, you will be informed of the reasons the Committee will not accept jurisdiction (such as, the complaint is directed at a firm or an individual who is not a member of IFDA), and information on other avenues you can pursue to resolve the issues at hand. You will also receive a copy of the IFDA Code of Ethics Enforcement Procedures, detailing what will happen after you file the complaint, and a notice of your right to appeal the Chairperson's decision regarding jurisdiction.

If the Ethics Committee has jurisdiction over the complaint, the IFDA member against whom the complaint is filed will be contacted and furnished with a copy of the complaint and any relevant documentary evidence provided with the complaint. The complaint will be investigated, attempts will be made to resolve the complaint, a formal hearing will be conducted if necessary, and disciplinary measures will be taken if warranted, all in accordance with IFDA's Code of Ethics Enforcement Procedures.

IFDA will not disclose your complaint to the public unless the complaint results in a finding of a violation and the imposition of disciplinary measures, which are to be publicly disclosed under specific provisions outlined in Sections 9 and 11 of IFDA's Code of Ethics Enforcement Procedures.

Contact IFDA at 800-458-0746 if you have questions or require assistance with any funeral service issues involving any funeral service provider. Chances are, we can help.
