Pat Roeller: “Baby Blanket”

My only grandson and I have always been close. For 4 years, I would stay overnight at my daughter’s house 3 days a week to accommodate her work schedule. My grandson would come to my room before bed and we would talk and talk. I got him up in the morning, fed him and drove him to school.

He is now in college.

During 2020, I needed to keep busy. I wasn’t sure that I would be alive when he had children, so I picked out a pattern for a baby stroller/bed blanket. I called the yarn store owner, told her what I wanted to do. She picked out the yarn and did a drop off at my house.

There is so much LOVE in every stitch!
