

A Snail Male

you are not as quick as you used to be,
But that is OK by me,
My steps are short by nature,
Where as your legs are long by stature,

Stridding side by side is a pleasure,
Watching the sunset is a treasure,
I never grow weary of our time,
For you are always on my mind!

As age descends upon us,
Our walks are not daily fuss,
But reminders we still ~~do~~ trust
In walks that are only in our dreams
