

Alan Schlossberg, Regional Practice Leader, Design Group is a devoted enthusiast of the arts, Alan holds dual degrees—a Bachelor of Fine Arts in Theater Design and a Master of Architecture—from Carnegie Mellon University. Renowned as a skilled designer and a leader in mixed-use, multi-family projects, he advocates for a thoughtful place-making approach that seamlessly integrates art and architecture within a regional context. Alan possesses extensive experience in designing and implementing public-private partnerships that connect private sector equity and development with educational and medical institutions. His portfolio includes collaborations with esteemed developers such as Toll Brothers, RBH Development, Graystar, Balfour Beatty, Faros Properties, WeWork-WeLive, and Fairmount Properties, as well as notable public institutions like the University of Arkansas, University of Maryland, University of North Carolina, University of Pittsburgh, Rutgers University, and Marshall University.