

There are many possibilities.
Yes, they all have names.
There's Mother, who, in her spare time,
Plays her children's games.
There's Actor, Author, "Awesome" Aunt,
Banker, Butcher, Brother Grant.
Many possibilities, we're not even close but we can't name all of them, you see,
or we'd have to say, "Adios!"
We'd pack our bags and leave our homes,
marching every which way.
We'd see all of those possibilities,
and we would hear them say,
"Hey, choose me," "No, me!" "Wait, me!"
So we try them all on just like we try on shoes
And set out into the world to see which one we'll choose.
