

Legislators & Aides

“We want to hear what your issue is and find if we have a solution for it.”

- Rep. Kyle Koehler

Building a Relationship

Legislators are people too - simply ones with a title.

When working with your legislator, remember:

- Your legislator is available to listen to the challenges facing your business.
- There may not be a solution to your issue, but your legislator is willing to try.
- Be patient, be persistent and be kind.

Communication

- For greater impact, take time to write a personal letter or email.
- A phone call is best for fast connection.
- Be patient, be persistent and be kind.

Working with Aides

- Legislative aides are plugged into the issues and well-informed - draw on their expertise and connections.
- Aides work full time in the capitol and are accessible.
- Aides have a direct connection to legislators - all information gets passed along.
