

Ohio Risk Coordinators Group

Confidential group for Ohio's safety and risk managers

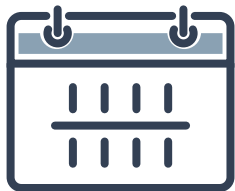

WHO WE ARE

The Ohio Risk Coordinator (ORC) Group is an organization of environmental, health, safety, and transportation professionals in agribusiness. The group meets on a monthly basis to keep members informed of the latest regulatory information, training techniques and compliance strategies; and to help members grow the safety and health culture at their home companies.

Membership provides you a support network of individuals often sharing recent learnings or breaking information throughout the month via email and providing you that network where you may reach out when a question or need arises.

Safety and compliance are facets of agribusiness that are ever-changing, and being a member of the ORC Group is one way safety and health professionals can ensure they keep up with the changes.

MEETINGS

Meetings are typically held at one of the member's company facilities or virtually, usually on the second Wednesday of the month. The host member's company may provide a meeting place and lunch.

SPEAKERS/TOPICS

Along with regulatory, agency and industry speakers on timely subjects, the ORC Group meetings are a valuable resource of information and sharing. Industry experts in safety and health related fields as well as compliance are frequent guests.

MEMBERSHIP

FULL MEMBER

Individual responsible for any of the functions involved with Environmental, Health, Safety and Transportation (EHS&T) compliance. Additionally, safety training is a major area of responsibility of Risk Coordinators along with record-keeping, spill response, permits, workers' compensation claim management, other insurance claims, driver files, policy development, and other compliance related activities. Full Members have access to the ORC Group library of training and compliance materials developed by the membership.

ASSOCIATE MEMBER

Individual representing insurance companies, hazardous materials emergency responders, human resource specialists, and other related fields.

READY TO JOIN?

Individuals interested in membership should contact the Ohio Risk Coordinators Group at mikejamison@sunriseco-op.com. Please use "ORC Membership" in the subject line.

