A REVIEW OF ADHD PRESCRIBING GUIDELINES: SIT STILL, FOCUS, AND LISTEN

ADHD is one of the most common disorders of childhood. As of 2011, approximately 11% of the population has been diagnosed with the condition. With so many children diagnosed and so many treatment options, recommending therapy can be difficult. This presentation will provide pharmacists with an overview of current ADHD prescribing recommendations in children, and will include dosage forms and prescription costs.

RED FLAGS OF DRUG DIVERSION

Hydrocodone is the most prescribed drug and contributes to the epidemic of prescription drug abuse in the U.S. Using case studies, this program will help pharmacists identify valid prescriptions, and how to say "No" to filling questionable prescriptions. "Red flags" do not necessarily mean "Do not fill," but that the pharmacist should use professional judgment before deciding to fill. This program is approved for 0.1 CEU (one contact hour) of Ohio Board-approved jurisprudence CE.

Our speakers will discuss the causes of falls, recommendations for fall safety, interventions for fall risk patients, and appropriate use of medications based on the pharmacokinetic and pharmacodynamic differences between adult and geriatric patients. How to apply the Beers and START/STOPP criteria to patient cases, and when to get other health care professionals involved, will be included.
