

Scholarship Program

The Uniform Retailers Association (URA) is a trade organization whose members are independent retailers in the uniform industry. Members located throughout the world, operate hundreds of stores and have estimated annual sales in the millions of dollars. The profession employs thousands of full-time and part-time employees.

To memorialize supporters of the Uniform Retailers Association (URA) and others who have contributed to the growth of this profession, and to encourage and support URA members, their families and customers to continue their education beyond high school, URA established a scholarship fund. Each year URA may award one or more applicants.

Scholarships are awarded for the purpose of higher education in the field of healthcare and/or medical business management. Eligible applicants include URA member in good standing, their children, member employees, their children, or any customer or student recommended by a URA member.
